1. With reference to your telegram to [REDACTED] on 27 December, I feel it is quite possible to work out an arrangement with him for use as an intermittent consultant on a fee basis which will allow him to draw fees for those days on which he served without interfering with his retirement benefits. It will be necessary, as usual, to explain this most carefully to [REDACTED] so that he understands the restrictions on such an arrangement.

2. It would be far preferable to do this orally if [REDACTED] plans to be in Washington. If, however, you prefer a letter please let me know and I will prepare the necessary.
